

PRESS RELEASE
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
April 1, 2020

Community Foundation launches COVID-19 Response Workshop Series

The Community Foundation of Jackson Hole announced today that it will host a COVID-19 Response workshop series for nonprofits April 7-9. While the toll of coronavirus is still being quantified, there's no doubt most local nonprofits have been or will be impacted.

"We are here to help our community," remarked Laurie Andrews, President of the Community Foundation of Jackson Hole. "Sustainable and healthy nonprofit organizations are a critical component to coming out of this pandemic on solid footing."

The workshops are designed to help nonprofits work through current financial and operational challenges. The three online workshops are free for the local nonprofit community. Registration is available at cfjacksonhole.org/workshops for any or all of the following sessions.

Tuesday, April 7 from 2-4pm

Instructor: Kari Anderson, Incite Consulting Group

Topics:

- Adapting strategic plans
- Engaging donors/when to fundraise again
- Cancelling or postponing events
- How to leverage extra time
- Self-care

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER (deadline: April 7 at 12pm)

Wednesday, April 8 from 2-4pm

Instructor: Karen Coleman, Community Foundation of Jackson Hole

Topics:

- Managing costs during a crisis/economic downturn
- Cash flow, projections and forecasting
- Continuity of operations
- Contingency planning
- CARES Act highlights for nonprofits

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER (deadline: April 8 at 12pm)

Thursday, April 9 from 2-4pm

Instructor: Gary Trauner, Silicon Couloir

Topics:

- Strategic planning in times of crisis
- Refocusing on your organization's core mission and competencies
- Leadership and communication in a time of crisis

- Managing staff remotely
- Accessing outside sources of financial help
CLICK HERE TO REGISTER (deadline: April 9 at 12pm)

Zoom log-in information and handouts will be emailed in advance of each session to registered participants. If you do not receive registration confirmation via email (check your junk folder), you did not complete the process and should try again.

Program Contact:

Annie Riddell, Education & Outreach Programs Officer
ariddell@cfjacksonhole.org

Media Contact:

Anne Bradley, Director of Marketing & Communications
abradley@cfjacksonhole.org